TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS AND THE HEALTH OF EVERYONE

--Thanks to our Business Owners Navigating the New Reality. How Can We Help You?

This is an important time to support our business community!

We appreciate our local business owners for not just getting down to business, but also in making new plans and changing things up to reflect their attention to health and safety.

The responsibility for watching out for the health of others has shifted to include those retail places where we go to get the things we need.

Navigating the new reality certainly has a lot of challenges. Please reach out if you have questions or concerns or just need some help coming up with ideas for this new way of business. There are a lot of resources out there to support you.

"I am confident that the public and business community will continue to recognize that their actions will allow us to continue a safe, steady path forward." (Governor Gordon)
